

INVITATION

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

The Research Centre for the Humanities, Hungarian Academy of Sciences invites you to its second Refo500 workshop entitled, "Culture of Migration: Exile and Persecution in Early Modern Europe". The event will take place at the Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Research Centre for the Humanities in Budapest. The workshop is part of the research project "Reformation and the Hungarian Culture of Migration: Five Centuries of Survival of Reformed Hungarians all over the World".

Location:

Institute of History, Research Centre for the Humanities,
Hungarian Academy of Sciences
1014 Budapest, Úri u. 53., Room 224.

Date: 29. 11. 2013

We cordially invite you to attend the event!

Dr. Pál Fodor
General Director, RCH, HAS
Head of Organizing Committee

Dr. Teréz Oborni
Organizer, RCH, HAS

Dr. Zsombor Tóth
Organizer, RCH, HAS
Contact person for REFO500

PROGRAM

Culture of Migration: Exile and Persecution in Early Modern Europe 29. 11. 2013

Institute of History, Research Centre for the Humanities,
Hungarian Academy of Sciences
1014 Budapest, Úri u. 53., Room 224.

- 9.00–9.10 Opening of the Workshop:
Balázs Balogh, Vice-General Director of RCH, HAS
- 9.15–9.25 Presentation of the RefoRC project entitled, Reformation and the Hungarian Culture of Migration: Five Centuries of Survival of Reformed Hungarians all over the world.
Zsombor Tóth, Project Coordinator and Contact Person for REFO500 (Institute for Literary Studies, RCH, HAS, Budapest)

Session I.:

- Chair: Zsombor Tóth (Institute for Literary Studies, RCH, HAS, Budapest)
- 9.25–10.00 Herman Selderhuis (Theological University of the Christian Reformed Churches, Apeldoorn; Refo500): In the Desert: Identity, Identification and Exile-Theology in Early Modern Calvinism
- 10.00–10.30 Tijana Krstic (Central European University, Budapest): In Search of the Morisco "Community" in Ottoman Istanbul, 1570s–1640s
- 10.30–11.00 József Simon (University of Szeged): Nirgendwo in Siebenbürgen. Jacobus Palaeologus (1520–1585) und Christian Francken (1552–1610?) über den Raum des Exils
- 11.00–11.30 Béla Mester (Institute of Philosophy, RCH, HAS, Budapest): The Significance of Stephanus Szegedinus as the Representative of Protestant Martyrology
- 11.30–12.00 Pál Ács (Institute for Literary Studies, RCH, HAS, Budapest): Stoicism, Nikodemism, and Religious Dissimulation in the Hungarian Late Renaissance Literature: the Case of János Rimay
- 12.00–12.40 Debate
- 12.40–13.50 Lunch Break

Session II.:

- Chair: Katalin Péter (Institute of History, RCH, HAS, Budapest)
- 14.00–14.30 Ewa Kowalska (Institute of History, Slovak Academy of Sciences, Bratislava): Georg Lani, der Ideologe des ungarischen Exils
- 14.30–15.00 András Péter Szabó (Institute of History, RCH, HAS, Budapest): „Evangelisch-lutherische Glaubensflüchtlinge aus dem Königreich Böhmen im 17. Jahrhundert in Ungarn“
- 15.00–15.30 Zsombor Tóth (Institute for Literary Studies, RCH, HAS, Budapest): Early Modern Hungarian Culture of Migration: Persecution, Exile and Political Conduct.
- 15.30–16.00 Gergely Tamás Fazakas (University of Debrecen): Calvinist Rhetoric of Persecution in Late Seventeenth and Early Eighteenth Century Hungary
- 16.00–16.30 György Kurucz (Károli Gáspár University of Reformed Church in Hungary, Budapest): English Diplomacy and Hungarian Protestants in the First Half of the Eighteenth Century
- 16.30–17.00 Debate
- 17.00–17.10 Closing of the Workshop and Concluding Remarks.